Handwritten text in a medieval script, possibly Gothic or Carolingian minuscule, arranged in several lines. The text is partially obscured by three large, decorative, hand-drawn shapes that resemble stylized floral or foliate motifs. The script is dense and difficult to decipher due to the age and fading of the parchment.

Handwritten text in a medieval script, possibly Gothic or Carolingian minuscule, arranged in several lines. The text is written in dark ink on aged, yellowish-brown parchment. The script is dense and features characteristic medieval letterforms, including some decorative flourishes. The text is framed by a double-line border. There are three large, irregular, decorative shapes (possibly remnants of initials or markers) that appear to be drawn over the text in a reddish-brown ink. These shapes are roughly rectangular with jagged, wavy edges. The parchment shows signs of wear, including some staining and discoloration, particularly towards the edges.
