Handwritten text in an ancient script, likely Mayan or Aztec, arranged in several lines on the right side of the fragment.

Handwritten text in an ancient script, likely Tamil, inscribed on a dark, heavily textured and aged palm leaf. The text is arranged in approximately three horizontal lines across the upper portion of the leaf. The script is finely etched into the surface of the leaf. A small, irregular white hole is visible near the center of the leaf, slightly below the first line of text. The leaf shows significant signs of wear, including frayed edges and a mottled, dark brown color.

Handwritten text in a script on aged, stained paper. The text is arranged in approximately three horizontal lines. The script is highly stylized and appears to be a form of Indic script, possibly from the Dravidian family. The paper is heavily discolored with brown stains and has a small hole near the center.
